

COCKTAILS

'SCOFFLAW' ~ 80

An American-Italian crossover cocktail sweetly combining bourbon and vermouth. This drink was created in 1924 and was named after the outlaws who daringly drank alcohol during prohibition.

'FRENCH 75' ~ 75

A heavenly marriage of gin and champagne. Invented after WW1 in 1927, this drink was said to wield the kick of a French 75mm artillery gun.

'TOM COLLINS' ~ 65

A classic mix of gin, lemon and soda. This drink begs the question, "Have you seen Tom Collins?"

'MIMOSA' ~ 75

A sparkling summery mixture of orange juice and MCC. Created at the famous Ritz Hotel in Paris in 1925, it was named after the beautiful mimosa blossoms.

'BLOOD AND SAND' ~ 70

A macho concoction of gently smoked whiskey, orange juice and Martini Rosso. This cocktail was named after the 1920's movie of the same name as a result of the colours.

'BOULAVARDIER' ~ 75

A bitter sweet blend of bourbon and Campari. Invented by American bartender, Harry MacElhone, in Paris during the prohibition era and named after a Parisian magazine.

'SEVENTH HEAVEN' ~ 70

A divine mix of local gin and grapefruit with notes of cherry and citrus. Much drunken mystery surrounds the history of this cocktail. All we know is that it was born in the swinging 1920's!

'MARTINI' ~ 75

The dry, crisp classic. Gin or vodka, shaken or stirred. Invented during the San Francisco gold rush when a gold miner wanted something special to drink in exchange for a gold nugget.

'BEE'S KNEES' ~ 70

A gentle, silky blend of honey and gin. The term 'Bee's Knees' was prohibition era slang for 'The Best!', and we most certainly agree.

'MINT JULEP' ~ 85

'WHISKEY SOUR' ~ 80

Whiskey, lemon, brown sugar and bitters. The gentleman's classic. Ask for either Scotch, Irish or American whiskey.

'CLOVER CLUB' ~ 65

A gorgeous combination of soft Scottish gin and fresh homemade raspberry syrup. Famously named after a gentleman's club of the same name.

'SIDECAR' ~ 85

An old school mixture of cognac, triple sec and fresh lemon juice. This cocktail was considered a soldier's companion much like a motor cyclist's sidecar, invented shortly after WW1.

'HANKY PANKY' ~ 65

A simple twist on the classic martini using gin and Martini Rosso with a touch of mint. The brain child of Ada Coleman, head bartender at The Savoy in 1925.

'MARY PICKFORD' ~ 80

A Cuban classic which contains Cuban rum, fresh pineapple juice and a touch of Maraschino liqueur. This cocktail was named after the early 20th century silent film actress Mary Pickford in Havana, Cuba by bartender Eddie Woelke.

'SOUTHSIDE' ~ 65

Gin, mint and fresh lime juice. This drink is a fresh twist on the classic Mint julep invented at The Southside Sportsmen's Club on Long Island, New York, a place where the rich came to hunt and play sport.

'NEGRONI' ~ 70

One of Italy's favourite cocktails: Gin, Campari and Martini Rosso. On one fateful evening in Florence during 1920, Count Camillo Negroni decided to modify the trendy Americano cocktail with a shot of gin in place of soda, adding more 'heart' to the concoction, and thus, the Negroni was born!

'OLD FASHIONED' ~ 85

A simple masculine blend of spirit, sugar and bitters. Literally the oldest cocktail recipe ever recorded and one that will forever weather the test of time... the Old Fashioned.

'WHITE LADY' ~ 80

A tantalizing merger of gin and citrus. A toast to all the brave soldiers who lost their lives in WW1, the name and colour reminiscent of the ghoulish white cloud that hung in the night air on the abandoned battleground.
